We live in times of great insecurity and instability and many of us long to live more simple, rhythmic lives. In these two days Esther de Waal will offer a practical guide to finding God through the everyday circumstances of life, helping us discover that seemingly small, insignificant things can become windows through which the light of Christ can shine.

In the Quiet Day of reflection and silence at Haddington, ‘Approaching God Through Beauty’, we will explore the role of the religious imagination in our spiritual lives. We will be led into a world of beauty in which ritual and rhythm, nature and seasons, images and symbols play an essential role in our approach to God.

In the conversation with Esther de Waal at Edinburgh University, ‘Rhythm in Daily Life: The Monastic Way’, we will be helped to find a balance in our lives, looking at the Rule of St Benedict together with the Celtic tradition as guides to which we can turn in order to deepen our faith and practice.

Esther de Waal lives in a small cottage on the Welsh/English border. After studying and teaching history at Cambridge University, she married, had four sons, and moved to Canterbury where she lived in a house that had been part of the medieval monastic community. Her major interests are the fields of the Benedictine and Celtic traditions. She is a renowned author, lecturer and leader of retreats.
